BULGARIANS WIN VICTORY

INFIL CRUSHING DEFEAT ON TURKS—KILL OR CAPTURE ENTIRE ARMY.

Headquarters of the Bulgarian Army, Stara, Zagara, Oct. 25, 11 a.m.—The battle at Kirk Kilessch began at 3 o'clock yesterday morning and lasted until 11. The Turkish garrison some 52,000 men, and all the enemy's heavy artillery, were captured by the Bulgarians. It is stated that 15,000 Turks were killed. These figures, however, need verification.

Battery is captured.

The prisoners include the son of Mahmoud Muhkhtar Pacha. The Bulgarians also captured a battery of quick-firing guns. The capture of Kirk Kilessch makes the chances of ultimate success of the allies considerably greater. The Turks appear to be demoralized by the rapidity and ardor of the Bulgarian attacks which they are unable to withstand.

They fled from Kirk Kilessch in the utmost disorder in the direction of Tchatalja.

In their retreat the Turks were met by the Bulgarians entrenched along the road and terrible slaughter followed, the Turkish dead lying in heaps.

CRUCE BACKS ENFORCEMENT OF GRANDFATHER CLAUSE

Governor Cruce, speaking at Arnett Wednesday, said:

"The people of this state by a decided majority declared that the 'grandfather' clause shall be the law of this state; it has been declared by the supreme court of the state to be not in conflict with the constitution of the state; it is as much a law of Oklahoma as any of our state books and I say to you now that so long as I am governor of Oklahoma the 'grandfather' clause is going to be enforced until it is repealed or declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States."

Every hour the Bulgarian general staff is becoming more assured of the realization of the scheme of a short, decisive campaign, which may even be concluded in a few weeks. It is a highly important fact the Bulgarian force started three days ago from Malko and Tirnova to advance toward Viza and may possibly cut off the Turkish retreat at the western end of the frontier.

The combined Serbo-Bulgarian army is driving the Turks rapidly toward Nevrokop Pass, the Turks generally retiring after only a slight resistance.

Ready for Big Balloon Race.

Stuttgart, Oct. 26.—Everything is in readiness for the great international balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett Trophy, which will start from here tomorrow, and in which ten nations will be represented by twenty-three contestants. Today all who are interested in aeronautics or any branch of aerial navigation are eagerly awaiting the signal which will announce the casting loose of the first starter in the race. The other entries will follow at ten minute intervals.

No balloon race has ever been given promise of the success that is predicted for this year's international contest. In the number of nations represented it eclipses the previous contests held in Paris, St Louis, Berlin and Kansas City. The race will also establish a new record in regards to the size and power of the craft which will compete.

Besides the Bennett Cup, now held by Germany, as a result of her victory at Kansas City last year, the winners of the race will receive several other handsome trophies and liberal cash prizes. The city of Stuttgart will distribute cash prizes amounting to 30,000 marks among the seven contestants making the best records in the race. Each of the contestants will in addition receive a valuable trophy.

The United States has three entries in the contest. They are the balloons Kansas City II and Uncle Sam, both of which will fly the colors of the Kansas Aero Club, and the Balloon Million Population Club of St. Louis.

Germany, Belgium, France, Austria and Switzerland have entered three balloons each, Italy two, and Denmark, England and Russia one each.

KENEFICK WILL SOON BEGIN WORK ON WATERWORKS PLANT

Last February the town of Kenefick voted bonds for the purpose of constructing a system of waterworks for that place. The bonds have now been issued and are ready for the inspection of the bond buyers, who are said to already be on the ground, and that it will be no trouble to dispose of them at a good price.

It is said that work will commence on the construction of the waterworks just as soon as the bonds are sold, and that the work will be pushed to an early completion.

A portion of the newspapers of the capital also are appealing to the government to spare Diaz and his officers.

Efforts made to unravel the mystery surrounding the developments at Vera Cruz and determine why the decision had been reached to court-martial Diaz, resulted in a discussion in both houses of congress tonight. An interpellation was directed to the president for a statement of all the facts in the case. The senate, at a late hour, is still in session. The lower house adjourned when sufficient of the government supporters had made their exit, leaving the chamber without a quorum. It is reported, but officially denied, that a number of the members of the cabinet will resign tomorrow. The city is quiet.

An interesting feature of the situation at Vera Cruz is a report in circulation tonight that Diaz has instructed to Capt. F. Hughes of the United States cruiser Des Moines papers relative to promises of support made to Diaz by various federal army officers.

Ambassador Reid Is 75.

New York, Oct. 26.—Whitelaw Reid the American ambassador to Great Britain, will celebrate his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary tomorrow. He is now at his home in this city on leave of absence. Rumors are in circulation that he may soon retire from the ambassadorship, owing to his age and a desire to give closer attention to his interests at home.

Mr. Reid has had a career filled with many successes and honors. He is a native of Ohio and a graduate of Miami University. He joined the republican party at its birth, made political speeches for Fremont in 1856, and advocated the nomination of Lincoln in 1860. He was a civil war correspondent for a Cincinnati paper and after the war accepted an invitation from Horace Greeley to join the staff of The Tribune. The following year he became its managing editor, and upon the death of Mr. Greeley in 1872 Mr. Reid became chief proprietor of the paper.

Mr. Reid has held the post of ambassador to the Court of St. James for more than seven years, a record without parallel in the history of the American diplomatic service. Previous to his appointment in 1905 he had represented his country at Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1897, as one of the commissioners who negotiated the peace treaty with Spain in 1898, and as the representative of the president at the coronation of King Edward in 1902. In 1892 he was the candidate for the Republican party for vice president of the United States.

S. M. Dial of Maxwell was an Ada visitor today. He is one of the best democratic hustlers in the county and stated that next week he expects to put in several days canvassing his precinct impressing on Democratic voters the necessity of being out at the polls on election day.

THE FIRST COLD DAY—we will again serve the Original Hot Dutch Chocolate, Tomato and other Buillions and the justly celebrated Travenia's Mexican Chili.

DIAZ MAY BE SHOT FOR TREASON

Mexico City, Oct. 25.—A writ removing Felix Diaz, the rebel leader, from the jurisdiction of the military court was granted late last night by a federal judge. The full court will decide whether Diaz is to be returned to the jurisdiction of the military court or tried before a civil tribunal. Government officials insist Diaz is amenable to military jurisdiction under the constitutional provision relating to civilians who incite the army to revolt.

Extra editions of the newspapers late tonight gave the report that Gen. Felix Diaz, the leader of the recent revolt at Vera Cruz, had been sentenced to death by a court-martial.

The story was received with doubt by a large part of the public who were reluctant to believe that the commandant of the federal forces at Vera Cruz had ignored the order of the federal judge of the first district court here, removing Diaz from the jurisdiction of the military court.

Nevertheless, the friends of Diaz tonight were untiring in their efforts to secure a suspension of the sentence of death, if it has been imposed.

A portion of the newspapers of the capital also are appealing to the government to spare Diaz and his officers.

Efforts made to unravel the mystery surrounding the developments at Vera Cruz and determine why the decision had been reached to court-martial Diaz, resulted in a discussion in both houses of congress tonight. An interpellation was directed to the president for a statement of all the facts in the case. The senate, at a late hour, is still in session. Wilburton Bank Closed.

The First National bank of Wilburton did not open its doors this morning and Walter E. Wilcox, national bank examiner at large, is in charge. No statement of the cause of the bank closing or the amount of assets and liabilities is available here. The capital stock of the bank was $25,000, with surplus of $5,000. The deposits are something under $100,000. W. P. McGinnis was president, W. H. Royce, vice president, and R. H. Lusk, cashier.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The third cotton ginning report of the season, compiled from reports of census bureau correspondents and agents throughout the cotton belt and issued at 10 a.m. today by Director E. Dana Durand, announced that 6,838,841 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, of the growth of 1912 had been ginned prior to October 18. This includes the results of the most active period of the ginning season, September 25 to October 18, during which in recent years more than one-fourth of the entire crop passed through the ginner's hands.

To October 18 last year, 7,758,621 bales, or 49.9 per cent of the entire crop had been ginned; in 1908 to that date 6,296,166 bales, or 48.1 per cent of the crop had been ginned, and in 1906 to that date 4,931,621 bales, or 38.9 per cent of the crop had been ginned.

Included in the total ginnings were 41,753 round bales, compared with 58,858 bales last year, 65,182 bales in 1910, 88,716 bales in 1909 and 118,720 bales in 1908.

It is said that work will commence on the construction of the waterworks just as soon as the bonds are sold, and that the work will be pushed to an early completion.

THE E. C. NORMAL FOOTBALL TEAM

The Normal football team is fast becoming one that Ada should be proud of. In the game yesterday the members of the team showed that they have a knowledge of the game that will win victories. The farmer boys were a great deal heavier than the teachers, but regardless of this fact the home boys went through the line of the opponents almost at will. In only three or four cases, was it necessary for the home boys to kick on down.

Clude McMillan is no doubt a great football general. He handles his men as though he had been in the game for four or five years instead of one. He is cool, deliberate, and usually knows just where the opponents are weak. He, too, is not egotistic, and is always willing to take advice from the other members of the team.

Maude Donaghay, who has been out of the game part of the season, was given a try-out at quarter, and he certainly covered himself with glory. Fentem, who has been playing quarter, was switched to right end.

Special praise is due the line men for Ada. Harry Jones, Vernon Rollow Ferris McKeown, Frank Jones, and Ben Tolbert, all held the line as though they had weighed two hundred pounds. Brents, Roddie, Ralph McMillan, and Max Brents played with the usual vim and determination.

Guy Wilbanks, a recruit, was given a chance at quarter near the last of the game. To say that he is becoming a great player is putting it mildly. He hits the line like a veteran.

Important Question.

One of the state questions to be voted on at the approaching election is the amendment to the constitution submitted by House Joint Resolution Number 2, providing for state assistance to school districts sufficient to insure a five months' term on a five mill levy in the school district.

The purpose of this is to enable the state to help districts where a five mill levy will not produce a sufficient sum to maintain even a three months' school. Under the present law the legislature must contribute all school funds on a per capita basis. There are 5820 school districts in Oklahoma. Of these in 69 a five mill levy will not maintain even a three months' school. In 886 a five mill levy is not sufficient for a five months' term. The adoption of this amendment will mean special state aid to 886 school districts, out of the 5820. This aid to supplement what can be raised from the tax payers.

Hon. R. H. Wilson, superintendent of schools, the whole educational forces of the state, Governor Cruce, the newspaper press and the enlightened public sentiment of the state generally, is in favor of this proposition. It should not be overlooked on the ballot at the approaching election. Those who favor it should vote "Yes."

No one has any right to allow children to grow up in a bookless home. Every new home ought to begin with a small collection of books, and that collection should steadily grow. Familiarity of the text in "Stoddard's Lectures" means a liberal education in literature, history, biography, geography and art.

Duke Stone states that although California will be close this year, he believes the Democrats will carry the state for Wilson. He has been doing all in his power to aid in the good work.

A glance at the Wilson campaign fund in the News is striking evidence of the united front the Democratic party is showing the enemy during this campaign. The list is headed by a Clark man, and it will be observed that the Clark men have contributed fully as much as the original supporters of Wilson. Further, J. W. Davis, one of the hardest scrappers in the field for Clark, collected a neat sum for the committee. There has certainly been no sulking in the tents on account of soreness at the result of the Baltimore convention, nor do we believe there would have been any on the other side if Clark had been the nominee. This certainly bodes well for a glorious victory in November.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FUND.

Sometime ago the News opened its columns for subscriptions to the Wilson campaign fund. Two checks for $10 each were sent in some weeks ago, and today the third $10 was completed by Prof. J. Frank Lilly and Judge Tom D. McKeown, the last named contributing $2 in order to enable us to make the third check an even $10. A check for this amount, together with a list of the contributors, has been sent to Treasurer Wells. Besides the list appearing in the News Dr. Ligon and J. W. Davis each collected and turned in something in the neighborhood of $30, but they forgot to make a duplicate list for publication, much to our regret. However, there is much yet to be met by the national committee, and the News will gladly forward any other subscription that comes in, no matter how small or how great it may be. But if any one has any conscientious scruples about contributing through this channel, he might send it to Robert Galbreath, Oklahoma City, who is national committee-man for Oklahoma. A dollar will hit the spot which ever channel it may be fired through.

SLRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 26.—A census bulletin recently published has caused considerable surprise and speculation throughout the city. The bulletin referred to stated that the women and girls in Greater New York outnumber the boys and men by nearly four thousand. An analysis of the figures show that in four of the five boroughs of Greater New York the male out numbers the female population and that in the borough of Brooklyn alone the female population exceeds the male by nearly fifteen thousand. The figures for the whole city show a proportionate increase in the male population over the proportional rate ten years ago and this is attributed to immigration. Why the borough of Brooklyn should show so great a preponderance for the female sex, while all the other boroughs show a preponderance of the males, is difficult to explain and many theories have been advanced to account for it. The probable reason may lie in the fact that Brooklyn is what might be called a "City of Homes" to a greater extent than any of the other boroughs. It has a large foreign population, including many unusually large families, in which the feminine element predominates as it usually does in large families. A comparison with the figures of ten years ago shows, however, that even in Brooklyn the number of males is increasing at a proportionately greater rate than the number of females.

The Bourne Workshop for the Blind, a new, large, thoroughly modern and well equipped structure on East 35th street, was formally dedicated the other day with appropriate ceremonies. The building was erected by the order of Miss Emily Howland Bourne and donated by her to the New York Association for the Blind as a memorial to her family. The building is a fine structure, complete in all its arrangements from the roof garden, which faces the water on one side and St. Gabriel's recreation park in the front, to the shower baths in the basement. It is the first modern factory building for the blind ever built in this country and already has fifty chairmakers and chair-caners, and will accommodate 100 more. The cost of the plant was $107,000.

The eagerness of his wife to see some jewelry which he had bought in Europe and which he had smuggled in upon his landing in New York, brought Fenton G. Gilbert, an accountant in this city in conflict with the customs authorities and, eventually, cost him $328 in cold cash. Upon the arrival of the steamer at the pier Mr. Gilbert was met by his wife and a party of friends. After having his baggage examined by the customs inspectors, Mr. Gilbert proceeded to leave the pier with his wife and followed by his friends. So anxious was his wife to see the jewels he had purchased for her in Paris, that before they had crossed the gate of the pier, Mr. Gilbert took from his pocket a box containing a fine diamond and pearl ring, which he showed to his admiring spouse. She saw the ring and so did a customs detective in plain clothes who was standing near the gate. Politely he asked Mr. Gilbert whether he had paid duty on the ring and whether Mr. Gilbert had any more jewelry concealed on his person. The would-be smuggler, finding that the game was up, produced another box, containing a diamond and pearl pin and some other jewelry and was taken to the office of the Deputy Surveyor, where he had to pay $328 to get possession of the smuggled jewels.

A jury before Justice Pendleton in the Supreme Court the other day awarded a verdict of $75 damage to a man and his wife, who had been doused with a bucket of water by the janitor of their apartment house more than two years ago. The defendant in the suit was not the janitor who had done the dousing, but the owner of the apartment house who employed the janitor. The complainants in the case were enjoying the cool evening air, sitting on the steps in front of their apartment house one hot night in August, 1910, when the janitor rudely ordered them away. They paid no attention to the janitor's command, whereupon the acrobat of the building fetched a bucket of water and poured its contents over the couple. The suit was the outcome of that indignity. It seems, however, that the verdict is highly unsatisfactory to both sides of the controversy. The owner of the apartment house intends to appeal, because he is of the opinion that he could not be held responsible for the acts of his janitor. The complainants in the suit also intend to appeal, because they consider the damages awarded to them entirely inadequate. The only one who remained perfectly undisturbed and satisfied was the janitor.

Before I took Cardil, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that,

WHY OKLAHOMA IS SHORT OF MEN

AN "EX-TANK" GIVES A FEW REASONS FOR THE SCARCITY OF HELP IN THIS AND OTHER STATES.

Hobo—A man who is broke and looking for work at decent wages; who would rather starve than take another man's job.

Tramp—One who is too lazy to work at any time or at any price, and who would rather beg and go filthy.

Gaycat—One who will work when compelled to.

Yeggman—One who is so crooked he has to find a round-house to sleep in before he can get any rest.

Peterman—Safeblower.

Crook—Second-story men, pickpockets and petty thieves.

Tank—One who drinks all the booze he can get hold of, and has an immense capacity.

The writer of these lines has lately read with amusement several stories about the scarcity of the hobos in the southwest, and the various reasons assigned therefor. This is written by one who is now an ex-Tank and ex-Hobo, who has been all along the line and knows whereof he speaks, to enlighten the writers on the other papers as to the passing of the hobo in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

In the first place, none of the pencil pushers we have read make any distinction between hobos, tramps, gypsies, soft petermen, tanks, etc., but put them all in one class. One paper even puts Diamond Jack, Boston Baked Beans, Frisco Mike and Hercules Sam in as hobos, when, as is well known to the police of the country, they are criminals of the worst type.

The hobo is a different type from these. As a general thing he has a trade, but not always. He is not "on the road" of their own choice, but because the law of supply and demand puts him there. He is a victim of our industrial conditions, and it is either "hit the trail" or stick in some town and go hungry.

To illustrate: A big foundry or other plant shuts down and lays off several hundred or a thousand men. It is up to some of them to look elsewhere for work. A man may go for a long time before he gets a job that is worth staying with. If you do not believe this statement, start out now and try it.

In the meantime he goes broke, for as a general thing the average wage-earner gets little more than a bare living while he has a job. He hears of a job 200 or 300 miles from where he is stranded. Naturally he takes any mode he can to get to the place and land the job—riding a blind baggage, freight train or walking.

If it is through Kansas, Oklahoma or Texas he runs a 10-to-1 shot of being pulled off at any station and given from 30 days to one year to help make "county roads," of which neither state has any to boast of.

If he happens to be a man of family his wife and children are in agony of suspense because they can not hear from him.

The people who settled up the three states mentioned were those who left the crowded East to get to a land where they could have a chance to make a living. And, God knows, they had their hardships. The writer remembers when the people of Kansas would have starved to death had it not been for the generous helping hand of the people of the older states. And now the sons and grandsons of those grand, old Kansas pioneers give the man who is hunting work from 30 days to a year on the "county roads."

It is enough to make those old patriarchs, who look down on their progeny, weep tears of shame.

And right here, let me tell you, that it costs the state and county twice as much to build roads with such labor as it would to hire real, live men and pay them decent wages.

You can not show a mile of decent county road in either of the three states, built by hobo labor, that has not cost double or treble what a contractor would be glad to do it for, and do it right.

Every summer a wall goes up from the wheat fields of Kansas for help to harvest the crop. And every fall the same shriek goes up from Oklahoma and Texas for cotton pickers. They will continue to want them till such laws are repealed.

The only people who derive any benefits from such laws are the officers. And I have known them to swear to infernal lies to give some poor devil 30 to 90 days on the county road or county farm, and all the officer gets is his measly six bits or a dollar. And such actions on the Williams & Rose are drawing the crowds to the De Sota now and indications are that the crowds will grow as they become better known. This evening there will be two excellent pictures, The Plan that Failed, which is a rich comedy and one of the latest out, and the Animated Weekly, the character of which is already well known to everybody. Come early and avoid the rush.

Fresh Kraut and all sorts of Pickles—sweet, sour and dill—just received at Walsh's. 172-3f

John Beard is wearing a big silver elephant on the lapel of his coat. When asked if he had any intention of having bull moose horns put on the animal, he indignantly denied any such notion, but said he figured on having the beast's snout drawn out another inch or two so that there could be no question about what he represents.

Those who saw Dale & De Arden at the Majestic last evening will be the first on hand again this evening to see them in a complete change of program. They are rich. Two good pictures besides. Edison's comedy drama The Triangle is a hummer.

The Pity of It is a Selig problem drama. An intense story of a woman's degeneration and the price she paid.
